This clinic is being offered to the first 50 girls who are interested in getting a high quality workout from former NCAA college basketball players and current PUSD coaches.

This clinic is unique in the fact that there will be college coaches on hand to provide instant feedback to players during drills and scrimmages. Our camp instructors will also provide our players with their experiene of what an athlete can expect when it comes to the day in the life of a college basketball player. We will also have a guest speaker to provide our players with valuable information about the recruiting process. Presented by Kyle Williamson, Melissa Peng and Park Masterson
