FACILITIES

O'MALLEY FIELD AND LARRY WILCOX STADIUM

- The FieldTurf™ field was renamed O'Malley Field during the 2012 season in recognition of the years of support by the O'Malley family to Raven football and Benedictine College.
- New chair-back seats were installed in spring 2018 as the Athletic Department continues to upgrade the fan experience. The stadium not only offers Raven fans a great view of the game from every seat, it also delivers a breathtaking view of St. Benedict's Abbey, located on the southeast side of the field.

AMINO CENTER

- The facility houses the coaches' offices, the Ravens football locker room, and an outstanding weight room.
- Two large meeting spaces for players
- Features the Hall of Honor for the program with a large display case and pictures of the Ravens HAAC Defensive and Offensive Players of the Year. Various pictures of the history of the program, including a picture of former Raven and NAIA Hall of Famer, Jamie Mueller from his time with the Buffalo Bills are located in the hallway.

RAVEN WEIGHT ROOM

- Features state-of-the-art Hammer freeweight equipment as well as new Keiser weights from the Chicago Bears, thanks to Special Teams Coordinator, Chris Tabor '93.
- The weight room also includes a complete double set of dumbbells ranging up to 140 pounds; the dumbbells are used extensively in unilateral, stability, and core-strengthening exercises.
